A RICH TRADITION
OF INNOVATION AND EXCELLENCE

Queen’s is consistently ranked among Canada’s very best universities. Established in 1841, Queen’s University has a rich tradition of academic excellence. It has long enjoyed the reputation as “Canada’s Ivy League” university, attracting students from across the country and around the world.

Queen’s graduates have made indelible marks on the national and international landscape, through their contributions to science, the arts, business and government. The extensive alumni network of more than 180,000 graduates spans 154 countries. You will find Queen’s graduates in positions of leadership around the world.
In October 2015, in recognition of an extraordinary gift from Queen’s alumnus Stephen Smith, Queen’s School of Business became The Stephen J.R. Smith School of Business. Under this new name, the School will continue to be one of the world’s premier business schools and a major innovator in the field of business education.

In addition to its highly acclaimed MBA programs, Smith School of Business is also home to Canada’s most prestigious undergraduate business program and several outstanding graduate programs. As well, the School is one of the world’s largest and most respected providers of executive education.

Thought Leadership

Smith School of Business has an impressive record of cutting-edge research and thought leadership, and both faculty and graduate students enjoy access to numerous resources that support this effort. Smith Business Insight (ssb.ca/insight) provides a platform to share insights with the world.

Globally Connected

Smith School of Business maintains international exchange partnerships with close to 100 respected business schools in over 40 countries. Every year, well over 650 of our students travel to international destinations as part of their studies. Additionally, more than 3,500 organizations in over 60 countries have sent managers and executives to Queen’s Executive Education Programs in a variety of locations around the world. Smith is also a founding member of two leading global advocacy initiatives for responsible leadership, in partnership with the United Nations Global Compact.

Internationally Accredited

Smith School of Business is fully accredited by the world’s two leading accreditation bodies: The AACSB (Association to Advance Collegiate Schools of Business), and EQUIS through the European Foundation for Management Development.

Game Plan

Smith School of Business is a founding partner of Game Plan, helping Canada’s Olympic and Paralympic athletes transition to their post-athletic careers.
Canada’s first MBA program designed specifically for people with an undergraduate degree in business.

Queen’s Accelerated MBA for Business Graduates is a unique and exciting opportunity for people with an undergraduate degree in business and at least two years of relevant work experience.

qamba.com
An internationally acclaimed MBA in 12 months, while you continue to work
Because the program is offered in several major cities across Canada, you are able to earn Canada's most respected MBA in 12 months, without leaving your job or your home city.

Smith culture of coaching
At Smith, coaching is an integral part of our learning culture, and its importance cannot be overstated. In addition to your Team Coach, you will have the option of working with an Executive Coach, a Career Coach and a Lifestyle Coach. This culture of coaching is unique to Smith and a key differentiator of our MBA programs.

Broaden your opportunities and fast-track your career
Queen's Accelerated MBA for Business Graduates will provide you with the skills and perspective to take on the challenges of more senior management positions. It will increase your value to your organization and open the door to new career opportunities.

A national network of peers
With the program being offered in cities from Vancouver to Montreal, you will have the opportunity to interact with an exceptional group of peers from across Canada. The relationships forged during the program will last a lifetime.

Major Capstone Team Project
Each AMBA team will acquire a Capstone Consulting Project client and work closely with that client on the implementation and cross-functional integration of a strategic change. Past projects have included mergers, acquisitions, consolidations, new product or service offerings, geographic expansion and the creation of complete strategic plans. Clients have varied from large companies to small businesses, not-for-profit organizations and public sector enterprises.

A curriculum that builds on your undergraduate learning
The program curriculum is designed to take you beyond the content of your undergraduate business program and build on your work experience. Rather than spending time relearning concepts and fundamentals that you have already studied, Queen's Accelerated MBA focuses on more advanced management topics that will enable you to take your career to the next level.

The power of teams
At Smith, you will be part of a team for the duration of the program – an approach that mirrors the workplace. Working with your Team Coach, you will learn how to quickly elevate your team’s performance, increasing efficiency and effectiveness. As well, you will have numerous hands-on opportunities to practice your team and leadership skills.
THE ACADEMIC PLAN

Advanced management content

A curriculum tailored to practicing managers with an undergraduate business degree. In traditional MBA programs, most students do not have an undergraduate degree in business. For this reason, a great deal of time is spent teaching management fundamentals. The curriculum for Queen’s Accelerated MBA for Business Graduates has been designed to be complementary and additive to the content of your undergraduate business program. Rather than relearning fundamental concepts you have already studied, the program focuses on advanced management topics that can help you take your career to the next level.

An integrated curriculum

In the program, you will learn to approach business issues in an integrated and comprehensive way and develop an understanding of how management decisions can have an impact across an organization and beyond. The curriculum is built on five learning themes – Strategic Thinking; Leadership; Global Business; Creativity, Innovation and Entrepreneurship; and Corporate Social Responsibility.

Certificate in Social Impact

You will also have the option to earn a Certificate in Social Impact. In completing the Certificate, students develop an in-depth understanding of leading-edge thinking and practice on strategic dilemmas and opportunities that place them at the intersection of business and social impact.

Please see our website for more information.

“Unquestionably, the highlight of the program was the development of an incredible national network, not only with my classmates, but also with several of the eminent faculty. I was also very impressed with the team-based approach which, in itself, was one of the greatest learning opportunities the program offered. The videoconference classes were efficient and effective and I couldn’t imagine doing my MBA any other way. I would recommend this program to anyone looking to complete their MBA at a renowned school while continuing to balance a demanding professional career.”

THE POWER OF TEAMS

While other MBA programs talk about teamwork, what they are actually talking about is group work — a very different concept.

Queen’s Accelerated MBA for Business Graduates uses an approach to team-based learning that is far more sophisticated than that used in other MBA programs. You will leave the program with a thorough understanding of the best practices for team building and teamwork — well-prepared to be a valuable member or leader of a high-performance team.

We believe strongly in our team-based approach because it mirrors today’s progressive workplace. You are assigned to a team for the duration of the program and a significant portion of your overall grade is derived from teamwork. Team members collaborate on assignments, projects and presentations, drawing on the skills and experience of individual team members.

“The team-based approach was powerful. Working with people from a variety of backgrounds and seeing the unique talents and perspective they each brought to the table was amazing. I found that we were constantly learning from each other.”

ERIN THOMSON, MBA
Supervisor, Counterparty Risk
Husky Energy

Team Coaching

Professional Team Coaches are assigned to every team. They will monitor your team’s performance and provide regular feedback that is pivotal to the learning process. A great deal of time during the Opening On-Campus Session is devoted to setting the tone for your Learning Team. You and your teammates will be led through a series of exercises designed to get acquainted, gain insight into everyone’s preferred thinking style, formulate a team mission statement and group norms, and successfully conduct your first meeting.

Developing Your Team and Leadership Skills

One of the greatest benefits of the team-based approach is the opportunity to develop and hone your team and leadership skills — skills that are essential in business today. In the Queen’s Accelerated MBA for Business Graduates program, you don’t just learn about team and leadership skills, you put them into practice every day.
OUR UNIQUE CULTURE OF COACHING

At Smith, coaching is an integral part of our learning culture. In addition to your Team Coach, you will have the support of an Executive Coach, a Lifestyle Coach and a Career Coach.

Executive Coaching

Today, people at all levels of management are using executive coaches to help them achieve their full potential. The optional Executive Coaching program will help you gain a better understanding of yourself and how to fully leverage your strengths. The impact of your Executive Coaching experience can be immeasurable and will affect many aspects of your life, both professionally and personally.

Choosing your Executive Coach

It is very important to develop a good rapport and chemistry with your Executive Coach. For this reason, you are able to choose from our roster of coaches. Our professionally trained coaches have a wealth of work, life and coaching experience, ensuring that the process is highly impactful and responsive to your needs.

“In the program provided many highlights, such as the Fit to Lead™ option. From fitness assessments to the personal training sessions to morning jogs while on campus, it provided a great outlet from the academic demands during the year.”

Director - Project Finance (Energy and Infrastructure)
CIBC World Markets
Greater New York City Area, New York

Influencing the direction of your coaching experience

Executive Coaching can take many directions and, at Smith School of Business, you are empowered to influence the direction you wish to take. Many participants choose to focus on identifying and leveraging their personal strengths, and our coaches have several innovative personal assessment tools at their disposal to assist you in this process. Other participants choose to focus on identifying and mitigating any perceived weakness, while still others choose to work on specific personal or interpersonal issues they may be experiencing. In short, the opportunities are practically limitless.
Lifestyle Coaching

Fit to Lead™ is an optional program that focuses on mental, emotional and physical well-being. Topics covered include personal reflection, goal setting, fitness, healthy eating and achieving work-life balance. Within this context, Fit to Lead™ focuses on the importance of making your own personal choices, challenging yourself and welcoming change.

During the program you have an opportunity to take part in various team and individual activities. You will also have access to a Lifestyle Coach who will work with you to design a personalized fitness plan.

Throughout the program, Fit to Lead™ will continue to inspire you, while our staff will work to help you succeed.

Career Coaching

In today’s competitive business environment, just having the right skills may not be enough. A key ingredient in the recipe for career success is focused, strategic career management. We have developed one of the most comprehensive approaches to career management available anywhere, including one-on-one Career Coaching and an online suite of career management services that you may complete at your own pace, according to your own goals.

“The outstanding thought and detail that goes into the design of the program is remarkable. The residential and videoconference sessions, Fit to Lead™, Team Coaches, Career Coaches… there isn’t a program out there like this one!”

TOYIN MALUMI, MBA
Senior Asset Analyst
Shell
Houston, TX
HOW THE PROGRAM WORKS

Queen’s Accelerated MBA for Business Graduates is offered in Vancouver, Calgary, Edmonton, Toronto, Mississauga, Markham, Ottawa and Montreal.

Team-based learning
Learning teams are formed at the Opening Session and remain together throughout the program. Each team is comprised of 6 to 8 members. Teams function just as they would in the workplace, drawing on the skills and experience of each team member. Professional Team Coaches work closely with the teams, assisting with team building and teamwork.

On-Campus Sessions
There are three on-campus sessions during the program which account for approximately 50% of your total class hours — the two-week Opening Session, held at the beginning of the program, the one-week Global Business Session in the Spring, and the one-week Strategic Marketing Session which takes place in the Fall. Executive-class accommodations are provided for you during your stay in Kingston.

Interactive boardroom sessions in your home city
The balance of your class time is spent in your Boardroom Learning Centre conveniently located in your home city. These classes are held all day Sunday and Monday morning, every other week, and are delivered via real-time, interactive videoconference technology.

Professors lead the class from purpose-built studios on the Queen’s campus. Participants are able to communicate directly with the professor and with the other teams. Each Boardroom Learning Centre is equipped with two large plasma screens, a tabletop microphone and a remote-controlled camera. For a demonstration of this technology, please visit qamba.com and click on “How the Program Works”.

Smith School of Business has been using and perfecting this technology for more than 18 years, and our participants consistently tell us that they actually prefer the Boardroom Learning approach to that of a traditional classroom.

On-campus sessions are intense and productive, providing excellent opportunities for networking. Our program staff organize numerous events and activities to ensure that your experience includes a healthy blend of work and recreation.

OUTSTANDING FACULTY TEAM

In the Queen’s Accelerated MBA for Business Graduates program, you will learn from a team of exceptional professors.

This team has been consistently recognized as among the best business educators in the world. They include renowned researchers and award-winning teachers. Beyond their academic credentials, they have a breadth of real-world business experience. Our faculty teach in some of North America’s most popular executive education programs and consult with leading organizations around the world. They have earned the respect of business leaders and the business media.

For a complete list of professors teaching on the program, please visit qamba.com

“Smith School of Business has an impressive array of experienced and committed professors. Many organizations continuously seek their expertise for consulting purposes, which undeniably enhances classroom discussions. These professors not only teach conceptual frameworks, but also provide ways to apply them in the business world.”

YOUSSEF KABBANI, MBA
Senior Strategy Manager
Telus
Toronto

“The Smith faculty is incredibly engaging. They facilitate discussions with depth, and the classroom experience is fantastic. Their knowledge, passion and commitment have surpassed all of my expectations.”

OMAR MEDINA, MBA
Institutional Client Service Director
SEI

GRADUATE SUCCESS STORIES

Our Graduate Success Stories reflect a range of people, at a variety of levels within their organizations, who entered the program with their own unique career goals.

“The program greatly enhanced my strategic planning skills, and helped me to look at business issues and opportunities from a broader strategic perspective. It has facilitated my movement into new roles and departments across the organization and provided a breadth of frameworks and tools on which to build.”

MANASI KULKARNI, MBA
Vice President, Corporate Development & Strategy
Rexall
Toronto

Prior to entering the Queen’s MBA for Business Graduates program, Manasi was Manager of Strategy in the Business Development Department at Shoppers Drug Mart. Upon completion of the program she was promoted to Director within the same group and her role expanded to include leading the company’s strategic planning process. Manasi then moved into Category Management to establish and lead initiatives to evolve the retail category offerings as Director, Category Strategy. She is now Vice President, Corporate Development & Strategy at Rexall.
“I decided to get a Queen’s MBA in order to develop my leadership skills and build a more strategic mindset, and the program really delivered. Within months of graduation, I was promoted to a more senior role where I was able to put these skills to good use. Additionally, the team approach taught me to be more collaborative and to embrace the unique strengths and perspectives of other team members - skills that translate well into today’s matrix-designed organizations. While in the program, I made enduring friendships and developed a network that has significantly contributed to my success.”

“I greatly attribute my rapid career development to the strategic/cross-functional thinking I was able to hone in the Queen’s program. The national network I was able to establish is amazing. My classmates were some of the smartest I have ever met. The team-based approach provided a risk-free environment to truly learn how to work well with others. Queen’s has developed me into a multi-tasker, who is able to jump from meeting to meeting, with strong perspectives and points-of-view, regardless of the topic or audience. I am a huge fan of this program.”

“For me, the highlight of the program was forming a network of peers across the country, in a wide array of industries. As well, I found the program faculty to be a great resource during and after the program. The team-based approach was very effective, and I found myself learning from others in the classroom almost as much as I was from the professors. The Queen’s program was a game-changer in my professional life, and it gives me a great sense of pride to say, “I have a Queen’s MBA.”

ARJUN DAVDA, MBA
Group Lead, Business and Competitive Intelligence
Cenovus
Calgary
When Arjun entered the program, he was an IT Business Analyst at Encana Corporation. Immediately after graduation, he moved from IT to Supply Chain Management, in a newly created role with a strategy and market intelligence bent element. Two years later, he decided to move into the telecommunications industry, taking the position of Senior Manager, Business Intelligence at Shaw Communications. In 2011, he returned to the energy sector, moving to Cenovus, where he now leads the Competitive and Market Intelligence Group.

AARON BRIGHT, MBA
Head, Private Banking Strategy
Royal Bank of Canada
Toronto
When Aaron started the program, he was the Manager of Risk Reporting at RBC. Within months of graduation he was promoted to Head of Performance Analytics, Technology & Operations and subsequently held the positions of Head of Global Compliance Policy. Today, he holds the position of Head of Private Banking Strategy and is responsible for overseeing the strategic direction of Canada’s largest private bank.

JENNIFER DUNN, MBA
Senior Director - Shopper Marketing
Ivanhoé Cambridge
Montreal
Jennifer joined the Queen’s program as Manager of Strategic Development at Yellow Pages Group. Throughout the program, she received several promotions. First, she moved into YPG’s newly formed agency Mediative and was quickly promoted to Senior Manager of Products and, a year later, to Director of Products. While in the program, Marketing Magazine named her one of Canada’s top 30 Under 30 Marketers. Recently, she decided to move to Ivanhoé Cambridge in the role of Director of Digital Marketing, where she is responsible for leading their bricks-and-mortar shopping centers’ transition into the digital space.
“I found the on-campus sessions to be exceptional from both a learning and networking perspective, and the customer support was outstanding. The broad experience and expertise of many of the faculty was an inspiration and provided a level of credibility to the content of the curriculum. The team-based approach is very much like the real work environment in which we all live, and the team building challenges and opportunities were life-changing. I still meet with some of my teammates to this day. I have already recommended this program to several colleagues and will continue to do so.”

DAVID HANNAH, MBA
Global Director, Supply Planning
Spin Master Corporation
Toronto

At the time he started the Queen’s program, David was Supervisor, Production Support at Apotex, Canada’s largest producer of generic medicines. Just before completing the program, he was promoted to Program Manager, Global Operations Launch Department. Two years later, he was promoted to Manager, Operations Programs, and then to Manager, Global Supply Operations Systems. He then moved to The Estée Lauder Group of companies, where he accepted the position of Director, Resource and New Product Planning. He is now Global Director, Supply Planning at Spin Master Corporation.
“At Deloitte, I’m able to take advantage of the experience gained from the Smith program, especially in terms of strategic thinking and working in diverse teams. Being able to bring a deeper understanding of strategy and performance has helped me to succeed in discussions with clients at all levels. By far, the highlight of the program was working with a highly motivated and diverse group of people. It was the challenging discussions and perspectives from faculty and classmates that were the best source of learning for me. I continue to recommend this program because I believe it provides great value.”

“With the professors being very engaging and effective at challenging your way of thinking. Many have worked in industry or do consulting and have current and relevant examples from their own experiences to share. My growth at work, while completing the program, was exciting for me. Right from the start, you have tools, tactics and strategies to take back and implement. I also had the opportunity to do an individual strategy assignment on my company, which was escalated to our executive team and many of my recommendations were implemented. A great opportunity to gain visibility with our senior management.”

“In my opinion, the team aspect of the program is a key differentiator. Smith does an incredible job of offering an effective structure to manage teams. As well, the network that I was able to develop right across Canada was outstanding. The faculty was fantastic, and you left the class able to apply your learning immediately. I believe the Executive Coaching I received while in the program was very beneficial. In all, this is just a great program and I would absolutely recommend it.”

VICTORIA GIRARDO, MBA
Senior AVP, Business and Personal Products and Services
Canadian Western Bank
Edmonton

At the time Victoria started the program she was Senior Manager, Product Development and Management at Canadian Western Bank. Since graduation she has experienced two promotions. Shortly after completing the program she was promoted to Director, Product Development and Management and, a year later to Senior AVP, Business and Personal Products and Services.

UJAL THAKOR, MBA
Lead, Strategy & Operations - Finance
Deloitte Canada
Calgary

When Ujal started the program with Queen’s, he was a Senior Analyst in WestJet’s Market Analytics Group. Upon graduation, he moved to WestJet’s Investor Relations group for a year. He then joined the Strategy and Operations group as a Senior Consultant at Deloitte Consulting, where he now has the opportunity to engage with Canada’s largest energy companies, helping them improve their strategic and financial planning capabilities, as well as contributing to many of Deloitte’s other client service offerings.

CHRIS MANNING, MBA
Vice President, Business Transformation
Scotiabank
Toronto

When he entered the program, Chris was Senior Associate at Roynat Capital, a subsidiary of Scotiabank, managing growth and transition capital for Canadian businesses. Since graduation, he has received a number of promotions within Scotiabank, including: Director, Automotive Finance & Indirect Lending; Director, International Corporate & Commercial Banking; and National Director, Small Business Development. “I chose the Queen’s program because it was the only program that I could complete in one year, while still working, and offered a more advanced curriculum, building on my undergraduate studies. For me, the team experience is what really sets Queen’s apart. I not only learned valuable team skills, I made long-lasting friendships. As well, the faculty were top notch, with solid real-world experiences that they brought into the classroom. I have recommended the program to a few people over the years and they have found it to be as rewarding as I did.”

JANET VANDERLAAN, MBA
Senior Director, Business Credit Cards
RBC
Toronto

Prior to starting the Queen’s program, Janet spent five years working in various roles within retail banking at TD. Near the end of the program, she was promoted to Product Manager, Small Business Banking Products at the bank’s head office. She has subsequently held a number of positions within the bank, including Manager of Small Business Products, Senior Manager of Operations, Senior Manager of Small Business Banking for Central Ontario Region, and Senior Manager of TD Auto Finance Products. Today she is Director, Small Business Credit Cards at RBC.
Remember that for the rest of your life, when you tell someone you have an MBA, the first question they’ll ask is:

“WHERE DID YOU GET IT?”

You want to give an answer that speaks of tradition, innovation, academic excellence and an exceptional reputation.
