A SUMMER AT SMITH CAN GET YOU HALFWay TO AN MBA

A 4-month program starting in May, designed for recent university graduates with a non-business degree
Queen's University, home of Smith School of Business, is consistently ranked among Canada's very best universities. Established in 1841, Queen's has a rich tradition of academic excellence. It has long enjoyed the reputation of “Canada's Ivy League university” and attracts outstanding students from across Canada and around the world.

Smith School of Business is Canada's premier business school and is ranked among the best in the world by Bloomberg BusinessWeek and Financial Times. The School has been a major innovator in the areas of team-based and experiential learning.

In October of 2015, in recognition of a $50 million dollar gift from Queen's alumnus Stephen Smith, Queen's School of Business became the Stephen J.R. Smith School of Business. Under its new name, the School continues to be one of the world's most innovative and influential business schools.
Smith’s Graduate Diploma in Business provides an excellent opportunity for non-business graduates to gain insight into business and management practices. It is also a significant step toward an MBA.

A Comprehensive Overview of Business Fundamentals

Designed for graduates of non-business programs, the Graduate Diploma in Business provides a broad overview of business fundamentals. The curriculum includes ten courses.

Broaden Your Career Opportunities

The knowledge and skills you will acquire in this program will prepare you for a much broader range of careers, and a graduate diploma will open doors to opportunities that would not otherwise be available to you.

Earn Credits Toward an MBA

Every course offered in the program provides a credit toward an MBA degree from Queen’s University. As well, successful completion of the GDB program could qualify you for immediate entry into other Smith Master’s programs.

Team-based Learning

Queen’s University’s Smith School of Business has been a pioneer in the important area of team-based learning and utilizes an approach that is far more sophisticated than that used in other business programs.

The Graduate Diploma in Business was the ideal program to enhance my undergraduate degree and provide a leading edge into so many career opportunities. The faculty showed genuine care for their students and were instrumental in ensuring we were prepared for our next professional steps. The best part is that, at such a reputable business school, I have gained practical experience in the classroom, developed valuable knowledge and skills, and advanced my professional business career in just four months.

The Graduate Diploma in Business is a fantastic program for young grads looking to jumpstart their entry into business careers. The program provides fantastic opportunities for personal and intellectual growth, providing a great foundation for success in the business world. Through conversations with a supportive network of professors, classmates, and MBA alumni, I was able to decide upon a career path that was the right fit for me, and secure a management consulting position that I would not have been able to land without the program.

The Graduate Diploma in Business program at Smith was the ideal choice for me to bridge the gap between technical knowledge and business savvy. The program provides graduates with excellent opportunities to develop and thrive in a business setting. It granted me the skills necessary to propel my career forward and broaden the opportunities available to me. It is truly an invaluable program and experience that instills an increased sense of confidence.

GRADUATE SUCCESS STORIES

Academic Background
THE POWER OF TEAMS

Develop your ability to create, lead or contribute to a high-performance team.

We believe strongly in our team-based approach because it mirrors today’s progressive workplace. You will leave the program with a thorough understanding of the best practices for successful team-building and teamwork.

While other programs may talk about “teamwork,” what they are actually referring to is “group work” — a very different concept. At Smith, you are assigned to a team for the duration of the program and a significant portion of your overall grade is derived from teamwork.

“Beyond teaching me necessary technical skills, the GDB’s emphasis on character development and team-based learning really increased my confidence and ability to work with others. The diverse backgrounds of my classmates and excellent quality of teaching from Smith’s committed instructors made this program a challenging but highly rewarding experience. I am grateful for the network I have joined and the fantastic opportunities it continues to provide me.”

Learning Teams

Each Learning Team consists of 6 or 7 students. Teams are carefully assembled to maximize diversity of gender and academic experience. Team members collaborate on assignments, projects and presentations, drawing on the skills and experience of individual team members, greatly enhancing the learning experience.

Team Coaching and Support

A dedicated, professional Team Coach is assigned to every team. For the entire program, they will monitor your team’s effectiveness and provide regular feedback and guidance that is pivotal to the learning process.

Developing Your Team and Leadership Skills

At Smith, you don’t just learn about teamwork and leadership, you put them into practice every day. Each team member is given many opportunities to lead projects or contribute to projects led by other team members.
EXCEPTIONAL LEARNING ENVIRONMENT

Smith School of Business is housed in Goodes Hall, a state-of-the-art learning facility that combines the history of Victoria School, a restored 1892 schoolhouse, with the contemporary design, architecture and cutting edge learning tools of a modern business school. Goodes Hall was designed and constructed to be a community — a space that would enable maximum interaction between faculty, staff and students.

AWARD-WINNING FACULTY

At Smith School of Business, you’ll be learning from a team of professors who work together to integrate knowledge across functional disciplines.

Smith faculty members have outstanding academic credentials and have frequent contact with the business community through their own consulting practices and our executive education programs. The excellent student-to-professor ratio means you will have unparalleled access to your professors both in and outside of class, and you will find them very responsive to your needs.
CAREER SUPPORT

During the program, you will have access to the resources of Smith’s Career Advancement Centre, including one-on-one career coaching. You will have access to our online inventory of job search and career development tools in addition to Smith’s exclusive job postings site.

Career Success

The vast majority of graduates of this program have received a job offer within 6 months of graduation or have decided to continue their education. For more success stories, please visit our website smithqueens.com/gdb.

ALUMNI NETWORK

Upon graduation you will join the impressive Smith School of Business alumni network of 22,000 graduates, and the Queen’s University alumni network that numbers over 180,000 worldwide.

Smith School of Business attracts the best and brightest students from across Canada and around the world and our team-based approach fosters relationships that continue long after graduation. Every year, more than 1,000 students graduate from Smith programs.

“My undergraduate degree in Drama allowed me to develop a specialized skill set that focused on communication, storytelling, and effectively working in a team. The Graduate Diploma in Business provided me the opportunity to directly apply my background into a business context while also equipping me with the fundamentals needed in my career. This program effectively pairs students’ unique undergraduate perspectives with the Smith School of Business experience in order to excel in the recruitment process.”

SUMMER IN KINGSTON

In 2014, BBC Travel named Kingston, Ontario, home of Queen's University, one of five “great university towns” around the world.

With a population of 170,000, Kingston is a thriving small city located on the northeast shore of Lake Ontario, at the source of the St. Lawrence River. It is centrally located, less than a three-hour drive to Toronto, Montréal or Ottawa, and less than six hours to New York City or Boston.

With more restaurants per capita than almost any other city in Canada, even the most discerning of foodies will find some new favourites here. In addition to plenty of pubs and nightclubs, the Kingston region boasts some of the finest craft brewers and wine producers in the country.

Take in a play or enjoy a concert at one of Kingston's performing arts facilities. Be inspired in the many art galleries, artisan shops and studio tours available throughout the city. Kingston is also home to dozens of annual festivals and events every year.

The majority of Queen's students live within a 15 minute walk to campus, eliminating the time-consuming commutes associated with universities in larger urban centres. This closeness creates a strong sense of community amongst our students that is truly unique.

APPLICATION PROCESS

Admission Requirements

UNDERGRADUATE EDUCATION
Candidates must possess an undergraduate degree from a recognized university. A competitive average for acceptance is a B+ (roughly equivalent to 75%) in the final two years of study.

REFERENCES
Two references are required; they may be personal, professional or academic. The strongest references come from those who have relied on your work or can comment on your strength of character.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE PROFICIENCY
If your first language is not English and you have not lived in Canada for a minimum of three years, or your undergraduate program was not taught in English, you will need to take an English Language Proficiency Test (TOEFL, IELTS, MELAB, or PTE).

In some cases, the GMAT may be recommended as a way to strengthen your application.

Program Fees
Program fees and a fee schedule are available on our website.

Scholarships
A limited number of scholarships are available to those applying prior to December 31.

Student Line of Credit
(Domestic Students Only)
Smith School of Business has partnered with the local Kingston branch of RBC Royal Bank to offer a student line of credit tailored to your needs. Visit our website for more details.

Student Loan Program
(International Students Only)
Prodigy Finance Ltd offers loans to international students in the GDB program at Smith. Visit our website for more details.

“ I needed a program that would give me the knowledge and acumen necessary to kick-start my career. Smith’s team-based approach to learning not only delivered on content, but made business education a truly unique experience. I feel the GDB has allowed me to fast-track my entry level experience and move quickly into a more specialized role.”
