Governance

The Centre shall be administered by a Director (normally a CPA) chosen by the Dean of Smith School of Business in consultation with the accounting faculty and the ICAO, who shall be responsible for its activities and the administration of its budget and funds.

ICAO and Smith School of Business shall create an Advisory Board (“the board”) comprised of no more than seven (7) members to advise the Centre. The Advisory Board shall include the following members to be appointed by the Dean in consultation with the accounting faculty and the ICAO (normally the Vice President Learning or his/her designate or successor):

- the Dean or the Dean’s designate,
- one QSB faculty member who is not a member of the accounting faculty,
- one CPA QSB faculty member who is not the director,
- one CPA (preferably an alumnus of QSB) from public accounting,
- one CPA (preferably an alumnus of QSB) from outside public accounting, and
- one representative of the ICAO, normally a CPA.

The Director of the Centre will serve in an ex-officio capacity with full voting rights.
