The Power of Teams

Smith’s Master of International Business utilizes an innovative approach to team-based learning that is far more sophisticated than that used in other programs. Our team-based approach mirrors today’s progressive workplace. You will leave the program with the best practices for successful team-building and teamwork, well-prepared to be a valuable member of a high-performance team.

Understanding the Power of Teams

While other programs talk about “teamwork”, what they are actually referring to is “group work” – a very different concept. At Smith School of Business, you are assigned to a team for the core of the program, and a significant portion of your overall grade is derived from teamwork. Team members collaborate on assignments, projects and presentations, drawing on the skills, diversity and experience of individual team members, greatly enhancing the learning experience.

Learning Teams

Each Learning Team consists of 6-8 students. Teams are carefully assembled to maximize diversity of gender, academic experience, and cultural background – reflecting the reality of today’s working environment.

Developing Your Team and Leadership Skills

One of the greatest benefits of our team-based approach is the opportunity to develop your team and leadership skills – skills that are essential in business. At Smith you don’t just learn about teamwork and leadership, you put them into practice every day. Each team member is given many opportunities to lead projects or contribute to projects led by other team members.

Virtual Component of Teams

You will spend part of the program with your team members here at Smith, but you will also spend a significant portion of time working in a virtual team environment, with your team members, across numerous countries and time zones.

Double Degree Options

This program offers several opportunities to earn a second Master’s degree. Double degree options provide additional learning and a much broader perspective compared to the single degree option.

Why Choose a Double Degree

Having a second degree from an international business school will differentiate you from graduates of other business programs. If you envision yourself working in other countries or for multi-national organizations during your career, a double degree will provide you with the global insight and experience recruiters are looking for. Even if you don’t plan to work outside of your home country, the international experience gained from a double degree will help you better understand and collaborate with your future colleagues, business partners and customers around the world.

Double Degree Partners

Our double degree partners are among the best business schools in the world. Each of these institutions is accredited, highly internationalized, and highly ranked. We currently offer 10 double degree options. These options vary in duration, courses required, electives offered and the degree that is granted. A summary is provided on the following pages, with more details available on our website smithqueens.com/mib.

Other benefits of a double degree option include:

- The opportunity to earn two master’s degrees in less time and for considerably less money than it would take to earn them separately
- The benefit of career support from both universities
- Access to the alumni organizations of both universities and an invaluable international professional network
- Participation in internships or business projects
- The opportunity to develop functionality in a foreign language (available in some of the double degree options)
- Ability to specialize and build expertise in a particular region or discipline via Smith’s extensive partner network

“Smith’s Master of International Business in combination with WU Vienna’s Master in Strategy, Innovation & Management Control gave me the perfect educational foundation for an international career. The MIB program stands out for its very practical courses, unique diverse environment, individual career-coaching and an extraordinary team-based approach. The skills I acquired during my time at Smith prepared me for the challenges I am now facing every day in an international and fast-moving environment at P&G Canada.”

“I chose the Double Degree option and earned an MSc in Management from Mannheim in Germany. The international consulting project was a tremendous learning experience, developing an international expansion strategy for a U.S. footwear company. During the project, we worked across multiple time zones and reported directly to the divisional leadership team. We were also invited by the client to visit one of their factories, a flagship store and to meet the Chairman and CEO at their headquarters.”
