Tools

Business Retention and Expansion (BR+E)

- 60-80 % of all new jobs in a community come from existing businesses, so engaging in a dialogue with local business owners makes sense from an economic development perspective.
 - BR+E is an objective and highly structured business visitation program aimed at identifying the challenges and opportunities faced by the local business community.
 - By building strategies to help businesses address those challenges and realize opportunities, communities can work to create a climate that further supports and fosters entrepreneurship.

Tools

Community Immigrant Retention in Rural Ontario (CIRRO)

- CIRRO is a toolkit that assists rural communities in developing strategies that make them more attractive and welcoming to newcomers.
 - By making themselves more attractive to newcomers, communities not only are in a better position to address critical talent gaps in the local workforce, but they are also in a much better position to attract and retain immigrant entrepreneurs.

Tools

Downtown Market Analysis

- Market analysis data generated through the use of downtown revitalization resources provides entrepreneurs with critical insights into the characteristics of their local trade area.
 - In addition to general socio-economic data, market analysis data can provide information on expenditure potential: entrepreneurs can find out how much the population in the trade area spends on a wide cross-section of goods and services each year.
 - This information is invaluable to entrepreneurs in setting business strategy and in developing business plans.
