CORPORATE VIEWBOOK

Smith Commerce Society
Dear Corporate Partners,

On behalf of the Career Advancement Centre, it is our pleasure to partner with the Commerce Society to showcase their vast array of conferences, competitions and associations. Extracurricular involvement and leadership is an integral part of student life at the Smith School of Business and is a key strength that sets our students apart.

We welcome you to peruse this book to get a feel for the areas that align with your business needs such as equity-deserving talent, industry and functional focus. These student groups are always looking for corporate participation as guest speakers, panelists, judges, and sponsors to provide real-world industry knowledge and depth. This exposure to the business community is not only invaluable learning for our students but is also an opportunity for them to showcase their initiative, research and passion for an industry.

We highly encourage your company to get involved in any way possible as it elevates your brand profile among students, ultimately increasing your talent attraction. Our Corporate Relations team will work with you to identify your desired target market and match you with the appropriate group. We hope this book will inspire you and thank you in advance for supporting our students!

Best Regards,

KAREN JACKSON-COX | EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

WELCOME

Thank you for taking the time to read our Corporate Viewbook. We hope this guide will provide you with insight to the wide variety of opportunities available within the Smith Commerce Society.

ABOUT COMSOC

Established in 1967, the Smith Commerce Society (ComSoc) is one of Canada’s oldest and most prestigious undergraduate business societies. With over 33 committees and 18 world-class business conferences and competitions, Smith Commerce students continue to set the standard, year over year, for involvement outside the classroom. Our students show initiative and commitment in all extracurriculars, whether it be leading and organizing conferences, providing meaningful services for students, or creating volunteer opportunities within the community. Our Society’s activities encompass a broad range of disciplines, ranging from marketing to finance, technology, international business and many more.

OUR CORPORATE PARTNERS

Our Corporate Partners play an essential role in the success of our student-led initiatives. With your support, students have the ability to foster leadership skills and develop an exceptional out-of-classroom experience. In exchange, as a partner of the Commerce Society, you have the opportunity to connect with the next generation of top business talent through a variety of means.

This Viewbook is designed to provide an overview of how you can bridge your campus recruitment strategy with our students. Our intention is to direct you towards initiatives that are best suited to your company’s interests, while remaining open to custom partnership opportunities tailored to your needs. Examples of ways to get involved include: monetary sponsorships, guest speakers, case competitions, judges, educational workshops and more.

CONTACT US

To contact the Co-Chairs of a committee, please visit: https://smith.queensu.ca/recruiting/student-clubs.php for the most current directory.

If you would like to discuss a new initiative, or learn more about how your firm can become involved within the Society, please reach out to us and we would be happy to work with you.

Thank you for your time and interest in ComSoc!

CONFERENCES

COMMERCE & ENGINEERING ENVIRONMENTAL CONFERENCE (CEEC)

CEEC is a three-day conference that takes place in the winter semester of each academic year and focuses on the intersection of sustainability, design, and business. CEEC is recognized by Maclean's Magazine as being the premier undergraduate conference on sustainability in Canada. Delegates from across the country have the opportunity to hear from speakers of diverse backgrounds, participate in a case competition, and network with businesses in the green sector. CEEC prides itself on our commitment to reflecting our core value of sustainability in the delivery of our events. We host several on-campus events and activities throughout the year that encourage students to broaden their awareness of the climate crisis. The experience at CEEC is uniquely enriched by a diverse group of delegates who come together from all faculties on campus to share ideas and learn with one another.

QUEEN’S CONFERENCE ON BUSINESS AND TECHNOLOGY (QCBT)

The Queen’s Conference on Business and Technology (QCBT) is a student-run conference, founded with the purpose of bridging the gap between business and technology. Our goal is to create new opportunities and promote existing ones within this growing multidimensional field. QCBT allows for driven students to develop connections with various industry experts, which is exemplary of our passionate belief in collaboration. As we enter our eighth year, we intend to continue building on our past successes while attracting great business partners.

Corporate Engagement: We are currently seeking monetary sponsorship, in-kind sponsorship (judges or delegate swag), and speakers for our conference.
Timing and Location: January, Kingston

QUEEN’S CONFERENCE ON THE ENTERTAINMENT INDUSTRY

Our mission is to inspire students to pursue their passions in entertainment by educating them about the business management side of the industry and offer career-building opportunities to enable them to pursue those passions. We are a student-run committee and act as the entertainment industry liaison within the Smith School of Business, one of the top business schools in the country. The goal of the conference is to connect companies who work with or in the entertainment industry with 100 of Canada’s brightest and most passionate undergraduate students. The conference will consist of company-designed workshops, speaker panels, keynotes, and entertainment nightlife to paint a complete picture of the entertainment industry.

QUEEN’S CONFERENCE ON INTERNATIONAL BUSINESS (QCIB)

Founded in 2006, the Queen’s Conference on International Business (QCIB) is Canada’s premier undergraduate international business conference. QCIB acts as a platform to connect Canada’s best and brightest business students with inspiring global business leaders. We are focused on delivering the most accessible, equitable, innovative, and engaging conference for our delegates, corporate partners, and speakers. QCIB takes place over 4 days and 3 nights in the heart of downtown Toronto, immersing students in the day-to-day experience of different industries through office visits, case competitions, and networking lunches. This enables likeminded students to learn from one another and network within their industry, while full group events also foster the diversity of perspectives and strengths.

QUEEN’S WOMEN IN LEADERSHIP

Twenty-five years ago, QWIL began as a women in financial markets conference that aimed to empower and inspire young women to pursue their career goals in this field. As we have evolved, QWIL has expanded to include a wide diversity of industries, engaging voices across faculties, universities, and genders. Due to the unusual year behind us, we're excited to take QWIL in a different direction and pivot to running internally, with no conference. We see this not as a setback, but an opportunity which will allow us to take on more projects than ever and achieve our mandate on a wider scale. Although this year has looked different, we are committed as ever to empowering women in leadership environments to achieve their full potential, to engaging men and women alike in actionable solutions to achieving gender-based equity, and actively working to create opportunities for those traditionally excluded from such conversations.

Corporate Engagement: More guest speakers/non-monetary sponsorship

CURE CANCER CLASSIC

The Cure Cancer Classic is a student-run, non-for-profit executive team with a mission to drop the gloves against cancer and support those currently battling, living with, and moving past the disease in the best way we know how. Hockey is a passion that unites many Canadians, and as fans and players of the sport, it inspires and ignites our battle. In our 2019-2020 season, the Commerce vs. Engineering Rivalry Game hosted a sold-out crowd at the Leon's Centre and raised over $60,000, which was matched to $120,000 for the Canadian Cancer Society. The game was broadcasted live on television and featured in many local newspaper articles. In addition to the Rivalry Game, the CCC organizes two charity hockey tournaments - the Queen's Classic and Commerce Classic - and launched the Golf Tournament last year in light of COVID-19 obstacles. Since beginning in 2005, CCC has raised over $500,000.

QUEEN’S COMMERCE KIDS (QCK)

Queen’s Commerce Kids is dedicated to both enacting positive change for children in our community and allowing commerce students to escape the stress of daily life and feel like a kid again. QCK primarily focuses on volunteering and fundraising. For years, QCK has offered commerce students the opportunity to work in local elementary schools, which contributes towards CSR certificate hours. QCK partners with organizations including SickKids Foundation, Boys and Girls Club, and Canadian Blood Services. We are also interested in working alongside other clubs in the Queen’s student community, and are always open to new external partnerships. QCK has opportunities for every commerce student who is interested, and has the ability to reach students with diverse interests and give them an opportunity to get involved at Smith!

Corporate Engagement: We are looking for donation matching partnerships to help us reach our fundraising goal for the year! We aim to raise over $5000 again this year for SickKids Foundation and their amazing initiatives.

The Queen’s Case Competition Union (QCCU) is the official school-sponsored case competition team for Queen’s University. The Smith School of Business sponsors our team to travel worldwide to compete in locations such as Norway, Thailand, Serbia, Australia, Singapore, and many more. Our team is recognized as one of the top case teams in the world, having most recently finished 2nd at the New Zealand Champions Trophy, the most prestigious case competition in the world. Throughout the year, competitors complete skill-based training on competencies such as public speaking, critical thinking, and industry analysis. Hiring for competitors takes place in early January. However, interested candidates can visit www.qccu.info or our Instagram, @qccuofficial, to learn more!

QUEEN’S LEADERSHIP, EXCELLENCE, AND DEVELOPMENT CONFERENCE

Since its foundation in 2001, Queen’s Leadership, Excellence and Development Conference has built a strong reputation within the Smith School of Business and in high schools across Canada. Every year, hundreds of inspired high school students apply to QLEAD to develop their leadership skills and gain a better understanding of the business world and university life. This three-day virtual conference allows delegates to connect with one another and given our QLEAD alumni network, are able to remain connected long after. The conference will run on November 12-14! With the success of QLEAD 2020, our executive is excited and confident that QLEAD 2021 will be a remarkable experience.

STUDENT LIFE

BOARD MEETING

Founded in 2003, Board Meeting was created upon the guiding principle that no student should be left out in the cold with their worries and troubles on a Friday afternoon. To fulfill this principle, Board Meeting hosts a range of events throughout the year with the aim of bringing the Commerce and broader Queen's community closer together. Whether it’s a live concert, an alumni homecoming event, or an eating competition, BM events are a place where everyone can share some laughs, meet some new friends and take a break from the stresses of the Commerce program. Board Meeting is an ever growing committee that aims to give every student the opportunity to feel more connected to the community and have fun. See you on Friday.

BRAINTRUST

BrainTrust is a student-run organization that facilitates peer tutoring for Commerce students. We are driven to support, connect, and help students reach their full potential in the Commerce program. Throughout the year, we train students to become successful tutors, help them develop their skill sets, and provide them with excellent leadership experience. We facilitate the connection between tutors and tutees, run exam review workshops, and provide ongoing advice and resources to all Commerce students. To date, BrainTrust has helped over 3,000 students reach their academic goals by providing affordable and accessible tutoring support, while boosting morale within the Commerce community! This year, we plan to expand our reach among the student body and host more regular workshops, networking, and study group events to connect students.

QUEEN’S COMMERCE ATHLETIC COMMITTEE

The Queen’s Commerce Athletic Committee (QCAC) is a Student Life organization within ComSoc. Our mission is to improve student life and facilitate connections for individuals in Smith Commerce and the extended Queen's community through engaging social events centered around athletics. Our vision is to become the premier Student Life committee by allowing students to engage in athletics while fostering camaraderie and inclusivity in the Commerce program. QCAC has done an amazing job adapting to an environment where in-person events could not be held, hosting e-sports tournaments, a virtual Health Week, trivia events and more. We cannot wait to return to executing our classic, engaging in-person events that bring students together, while incorporating our innovative thinking from the past year and a half. QCAC’s executive team is made up of a group of outgoing, energetic, and hard-working individuals with a passion for athletics and fostering new connections.

SMITH GLOBAL NETWORK

The Smith Global Network (SGN) works to ease the transition between the Smith Commerce program and international communities and opportunities for students. We act as a local student liaison to provide support and resources to students from an international background and students that are incoming or outgoing on exchange at Smith. We work to integrate incoming exchange and international students into life at Smith and beyond through hosting events, providing necessary information and resources, and overarchingly offering support. Additionally, we help ensure that Smith students are set up for success when going on their own international exchange, providing information and the necessary resources to ease their transitions. Ultimately, we aim to ensure the best possible international experiences for all Smith Commerce students.
